Launching EconVision Website

EconVision is officially live at econvision.vercel.app.

EconVision is a dedicated academic and professional ecosystem connecting economics students, researchers, professors, and policy analysts. Whether you are working through econometrics coursework, preparing for graduate school, or publishing empirical research, EconVision bridges the gap between academic theory and real-world policy discourse.

Why Join?

- Collaborate: Share working papers, thesis drafts, and empirical research for peer review.
- Learn & Mentor: Connect directly with university faculty and fellow economists.
- Explore Tools: Access open datasets (FRED, World Bank), literature archives, and career opportunities.

Membership is 100% free and open to all.
